

NEWS

October 2013

ORBINOX S.A. awarded the OHSAS 18001 Certification

ORBINOX S.A. is delighted to announce that it has been awarded the OHSAS 18001 certification this last 13th of September of 2013.

The OHSAS 18001 is an internationally recognized standard and provides a framework for managing occupational Health and Safety responsibilities in order to become more efficient and more integrated into overall business operations with improved Occupational Health and Safety performance and compliance with legislation.

The certification is the result of the work performed at all company levels with the active involvement of Management and all Company employees.

This award attests the compliance of the Company preventive policies in every aspect related with the Employees' Occupational Health and Safety, as well as the commitment of all Orbinox employees in the surveillance of all legal regulatory requirements.

The Management of Orbinox S.A. wishes to thank to all the Employees the work and implication in the achievement of this certification and encourages them to continue with this line of continuous improvement of the occupational risks prevention measures.

